

ABSTRACT

A scooter bike with two bicycle wheels and a bicycle frame without peddles where the rear wheel is larger than the front wheel and the scooter bike having a flat scooter floor attached to the frame between the two wheels that is generally slanted downward in the front to allow propulsion by foot power alone without peddles.